

Carefully orchestrating every aspect of a new employee's initial experience of your organization can have an enormous influence on your culture. Appropriately, integration (some call it "onboarding") is a key component in our 8-step framework.

The first week an employee spends in your organization is the most important week in their entire career.

~ David Friedman, Founder

The Integration Training program gives you everything you need to build a world-class integration program.

It includes 3 components:

1. An onsite assessment of your current practices
2. A full set of ready-to-implement recommendations
3. Access to the HPC Integration Toolkit -- a suite of sample forms, letters, templates, schedules, and outlines
